Special Issue

Food and Nutrition Security

First Call for Papers

Editors
Fabio G. Santeramo, University of Foggia
Harun Uçak, Muğla Sıtkı Koçman University

Abstracts should be submitted to special@foodandagriculturejournal.com by June 24, 2015. The submission email has to have the following style for the object line: Lastname_IJFAEC_Special_Issue. See list of deadlines below.

Motivation and topics
Food and nutrition security is an hot topic and keep motivating sustained interest in academic research, policy discussion, and popular press. A special issue of International Journal of Agricultural and Food Economics in 2016 will be dedicated to the topics related to Food security and nutrition. Although not limited, we strongly encourage submissions from the following areas:

- Indicators, metrics and composite indexes of food and nutrition security
- Challenges of food security and nutrition at household level
- Impacts on calories, macro and micro nutrients consumptions
- Policies to improve food security and nutrition

Abstract should be no longer than 500 words and need to indicate the motivation of the study, the methodology and the expected results.
Abstract on different topics that are inherent with the Special Issue are also welcome. The selected articles will be published in the first issue (January) of 2016 of the IJFAEC. Authors of accepted papers will receive a hardcopy of the Special Issue free of charge.

Authors submitting to the special issue should note the following:
Papers submitted will be subject to a double-blind peer review process.
Accepted articles will be not subject to page charge.
Authors will abide by the copyright agreement of the IJFAEC.
Authors will submit an original research paper that has not previously been published.

The following deadlines will be strictly adhered to:
Abstracts due by June 24, 2015
Authors informed of selection decision by July 15, 2014
First draft of papers due by September 1, 2014
First round of reviews due by September 31, 2014
Revised papers due by November 1, 2015
Second round of reviews (if needed) due by November 28, 2015
Final version of paper due by December 30, 2015

List of selected references of interest for the Special Issue

